

Your digital banking is getting a new look

You may have seen communications recently about a new digital platform Byline is launching for personal and small business customers.

Rest assured, your digital banking services will remain the same as they are today but with a new look and name.

We are changing the name of your current mobile app and online login to "Commercial Banking" on May 19.

While your user ID and password will not change, starting May 19, you will need to login to online banking via the "Commercial Banking" account login. We will send another reminder on May 19.

Thank you, as always, for choosing Byline Bank!
